Recent Communications, Inc. Offers Chance to Win $500 Work From Home Tech Prize Pack With Holiday Hotline Sweepstakes

Regional telecom company touts VoIP phone systems that enable businesses and nonprofits to work remotely

COLLEGEVILLE, PA: Recent Communications, Inc., a regional full-service telecommunications company, rings in the season with their third annual Holiday Hotline. This year, the company is offering a sweepstakes with a chance to win a $500 work from home inspired tech prize pack as they tout their VoIP phone systems backed by local and responsive support enabling businesses and nonprofit organizations to seamlessly work remotely.

Now through December 31, 2020, individuals can enter for a chance to win a $500 work from home inspired tech prize pack by visiting www.recentcom.com/holidaysweepstakes.

The Holiday Hotline work from home inspired tech prize pack includes:

- Apple® AirPods
- Wireless Charging Station
- Temperature Controlled Smart Mug
- $100 Amazon® Gift Card

“We launched our Holiday Hotline initiative in 2018 as a creative and festive way to drive awareness of our local company and the phone solutions we offer small and mid-sized businesses and nonprofit organizations. With the ongoing shift to remote working, we wanted our Holiday Hotline to resonate. What better way to talk about our solutions and support than offering a chance to win a $500 work from home inspired tech prize pack,” said Charlotte Conroy, Managing Partner, Director of Marketing and Business Development at Recent Communications, Inc.

“Our cloud-based and VoIP phone systems enable businesses and nonprofit organizations to keep connected anytime and anywhere. Whether using IP phones, mobile apps, or computer-based softphones, features like automated attendants, cloud extensions, voicemail-to-email, and SMS/text messaging help fuel work from home communications goals.”
